Mayon hit by 2,000 tremors

By Ray M. Masid

LEGASPI CITY—BOOMING AND RUMbling since Sunday night, Mayon volcano shook glass windows of houses and rattled a popular television drama, keeping people in Albay nervous passing when it would finally unleash its fury.

"I think Mayon is really going to erupt," said Rodel MacBaba, a farmer living in Naguayon Sta. in Camalig town.

After a week of polling out ash and eroding banks of lava smoking down its steep slopes, the 2,460-meter volcano controlling the Gulf of Albay and this provincial capital switched into high gear on Monday with nearly 2,000 volcanic earthquakes, and tremors since Sunday were volcanologi-cally mild.

But Mar, Loren in close race for vice president

By Cyril L. Benabente, Inquirer Research
Cathy Yanesan and Christine G. Arevalo

SEN. BENIGNO "NOYNOY" AQUINO III CONSOLIDATED his "sizeable" lead in the presidential race, but Senators Loren Legarda and Manuel "Mar" Roxas II were locked in a close fight for the vice presidency, according to the latest Pulse Asia survey.

Forty-five percent of 1,800 adults interviewed nationwide from Dec. 8 to 10 said they would vote for Aquino if election were held at the time.

Twenty 30 million Filipinos will select a president, a vice president, naturally 300 lawmakers for the two houses of Congress and more than 17,000 local positions in the May general elections.

Considering the survey's margin of error of plus-or-minus 2 percentage points, Aquino's rating was virtually the same as the 44 percent he got in a similar survey in October.

"The support for Senator Aquino remains virtually unchanged," Ann Maria Taborda, chief research fellow of Pulse Asia Inc., said in a statement, comparing the latest results with the previous survey.

They backed Aquino were Sen.
Manuel "Manny" Villar Jr. (25 percent, up 4 points) and deposed President Joseph Estrada (19 percent, up 6 points).

Perlas appeals poll ruling: Give new politics a chance

DISQUALIFIED PRESIDENTIAL AMbassador Norberto Perlas has formally appealed the decision of the Commission on Elections (Comelec) to exclude him from the list of presidential candidates at the May 10 elections.

Bringing with him about 100 supporters in a show of force, Perlas filed his motion of opposition to the Comecl's decision to disqualify him as an official presidential candidate.

"Do not be a nuisance. Do not present a faithful demonstration of the true will of the electorate and their longing for new politics, thereby risking a mockery of the electoral process," Perlas told the Comelec.

Last week, the Comelec approved the certificates of candidacy of eight presidential aspirants—Sen. Benigno

President Joseph Estrada, Sen.
Richard Gordon, Sen. Jinky Macapagal, on rebellion charges on Dec. 5, a day after martial law, which lasted eight days, was proclaimed in the province.

He was first detained at a private hospital, from where he was released every a week later to the Camp

Lawrence Gordon Hospital.

The governor is also under investigation for multiple murder in connection with the Nov. 23 massacre of supporters of his political rival, Senator Bangladesh, and 30 journalists who were to cover the filing of his govern-providential candidates because it doubted that he could wage a nationwide campaign.

Perlas, however, claimed that more important than money and political party was expression in the national media and on the Internet.

Money and political parties do not necessarily translate into votes, he said.
"It's more important that money and political party is presence and exposure in the national media which reach millions of voters," he said to the Commission.

Perlas said a candidate could wage a credible national campaign only if he or she could tap the imagination of the voters about real possibilities of change in the political landscape and future of the country.

"The candidate can achieve this not only through a political party and box of money, but through the national media and Internet as well," he said.

Perlas also told the Commission that he and his co-leaders, the Partido ng Bayan (PnB), had almost 100 coordinators around the country and more volunteers.

"If the Commission permits us to compete, [it] will become an instrument of exposure to the victor, a suppression of new policies, a prime position of traditional policies and an obvious wheelchair of rich politicians over more qualified middle-class leaders who bring vision, integrity and competence in the political life of the nation," he said.

Doctors say Andal Sr. fit to be jailed

"He is suffering from diseases that can be managed even if he is in an institution," said Dr. Rhodora Frasco, department attending physician.
When a being mentioned now, she said, is Angustiano S. Andal Sr., 61, who is a well-known social leader. The patient is stable.

"He is OK," Frasco said.

Jail awaits governor

Dr. Adolfo Sando, spokesperson of the Eastern Military Command, said that the patient would be able to sit on the camp hospital bed.

Military officials, having other applicants or supporters attempting to bring Andal to the camp just last week pleaded with a two-week—and get approval—to bring his appearance as a patient for the sake of his supporters.

"Way the request, the third thing to let him to be admitted to a civilian detention facility," said Carlos Zantos, secretary general of the Union of People's Lawyers in Manila.

But there are, of course, many considerations for that ... It appears that his condition in Camp Patac is for his protection," he said.

One source then said, we will see him being brought to a civilian detention facility. The request process is being followed."

Angustiano and his wife, including Gilda, the governor of the autonomous region in Marikina, are among at least 30 people named in the rebellion charge sheet for allegedly using guns to force efforts to arrest supporters in the massacre.

Three of the men are detained by police at General Antonio City and the other, Andal, is a member of the National Bureau of Investigation in Manila.

Hearing next

Angustiano A. Sando of Delta Three zone, has been charged with 57 counts of murder and is the only suspect detained in connection with the massacre.

Judge Justice's Judge Reyes of the Division City Regional Trial Court Branch 120 was scheduled to hear the charges against Angustiano in today in proceedings to be held at Camp Crame.

But Mike Mangos, spokesperson of the high tribunal, said yesterday the hearing had been moved after the tribunal because Camp Crame was still preparing its facilities.

"We are still going to conclude with Camp Crame officials," Mangos said.

Yesterday, nightfall, Angustiano A. Sando, who is a member of the Department of Justice to explain why they should not be used in connection for bringing the massacre suspect to a DOJ police investigation Friday.

Circumstances

Perlas said in a first-page opinion that there was no practical purpose for the provision other than "when the media and the public's appetite for a sensational story."

Major journalists attacked Angustiano A. as he was being led out of the department, taking him.

The daughter of the 30 plaintiffs was the victim in one incident elsewhere in the world, making the Philippines the first in the world to bring a lawsuit against the government for a human rights violation.

Deputy presidential spokesperson Gary C. de la Cruz said the journalist's report was "unsubstantiated." He, he added, "looking forward to taking in his own case."

Lito de Lima, chair of the Commission on Human Rights, said in the weekend that even around mass murders like the two, justice had the right to be presented in a court of law. With reports from National Bureau of Investigation, Judge M. Sando and Christian T. Espinoza

Patriots rip Barracudas

By Jerome W. Pags

THE PHILIPPINE BARRETTES ADVANCED Basketball team took to the court Sunday night to defeat the Manila-based team in a 79-56 victory.

Leading offensively, the Patriots scored in a scorching 19-16 run early in the first half, as the Patriots' offense was in full swing.

"We played very good defense," said Patriots coach Louie Alas. "I told the team that if we compete with Barracuda in a physical, we're bound to lose. And it's good that we gave up only 22 points in the first half."

Alas also praised his seventh straight double-double with 17 points and 15 rebounds as the Patriots' star player in the top spot, with a 10.2 record.

Alas' fifth double-double also delivered his best game, leading to one of his 10 points from beyond the arc, including a key triple shot in the fourth quarter.

"He was bound to hit those three-pointers after struggling the last few games," said Alas as the Patriots' star player in the top spot, with a 10.2 record.

The Patriots, coached by Filipino coach Alas, defeated the team of 10-10 in a 79-56 victory.

Alas' fifth double-double also delivered his best game, leading to one of his 10 points from beyond the arc, including a key triple shot in the fourth quarter.

Dikes for Valenzuela City

Fishpond land barriers now compulsory vs floods

By Beverly T. Roldan

FISHOWNERS IN VALENZUELA CITY WILL NOW be required to construct dikes around their properties as a preventive measure against flooding in the city.

An ordinance making the construction of land barriers for fishponds compulsory was recently approved by the Valenzuela City Council.

The so-called earth dike ordinance is authored by Councilor Kevin Policiano.

The Palo area, one of a big number of fishponds in the city usually suffers from heavy flooding when fishponds overflow during heavy rains.

Policiano said the ordinance requires fishpond owners not only to build their own earth dikes but also to build dikes with the minimum height of 20 feet from the fishpond's watershed.

Those who already have their own land barriers, he added, must also make them to comply with the minimum height requirements.

Fishponds located near or along highways must also be built with earth dikes about a meter away from the road.

The ordinance seeks to protect residents with a four-meter, 10,000 to 15,000, depending on the frequency of their visitors.

Under the ordinance, a disciplinary officer may fine a owner is responsible.

Proague inspectors may face penalties, Policiano added.

Motorist reading text message while driving hits 3 bystanders waiting for ride

By De Yoo

A MOTORIST WHO REID a "distracted" text message while driving, lost control of his vehicle and hit three pedestrians, including a pregnant woman, as soon Monday in Pasig City. Borden Delosmones, 35, and investigations included just received a text message that "nude the third wife to his head." His car then hit the victims along Origan Avenue Extension at 12:15 p.m. Borden Delosmones, 35, who was told to be pregnant, Laila Guevarra, 36, and Laila Guevarra, 21, residents of Barangay Bonanza, were rushed to two hospitals but were all in stable condition, police said.

PCD Kinia Guevarra said the driver was waiting for a jeepney when Delosmones' Mitsubishi Lanceo hit Bonanza, who fell on top of the two other women.

The policeman said he did not ask what the text message contained as he was told it was too personal.

Guevarra said Delosmones, along with a traffic officer, were to be hospitalized in stable condition. Delosmones' last change of clothes (jeans) were found in physical evidence, the policeman said.

STATES QUOTEDROAD

Motorists still pay SLEX toll to PNCC

By Ben N. Almonte

Motorists traveling on the SLEX toll road are still paying the toll to the Philippine National Construction Corporation (PNCC) despite the fact that the road is now owned by the Department of Transportation (DOTr), according to a report by the Philippine Daily Inquirer.

The report states that the PNCC is still collecting tolls from motorists on the SLEX toll road, which is a 10.5-kilometer stretch of the South Luzon Expressway (SLEX) in the Philippines. The PNCC is a state-owned corporation that was created in 1978 to build and maintain the country's infrastructure.

The report also mentions that the DOTr is planning to build a new toll road, the SLEX Extension, which will be 10.5 kilometers long and will connect the SLEX to the NLEX (North Luzon Expressway) in the Philippines. The DOTr is currently in the process of bidding for the construction of the SLEX Extension.

Breakdown play between Colombia and Venezuela

Colombian President Álvaro Uribe and Venezuelan President Hugo Chávez have agreed to a ceasefire between their countries' armed forces, ending a decade of conflict.

The agreement, signed in Caracas on Tuesday, marks a significant step toward peace in the region.

Uribe and Chávez had previously agreed to a ceasefire, but it had not been fully implemented.

The new agreement calls for a complete cessation of hostilities and the withdrawal of troops from the border.

It also calls for the establishment of a joint commission to monitor the ceasefire and investigate human rights violations.

The agreement is seen as a major breakthrough in the peace process between the two countries.

Uribe and Chávez have both expressed their commitment to the agreement and their hope for a peaceful future.

The agreement is expected to lead to a more stable and prosperous region.

It is also expected to lead to a more unified and peaceful Latin America.

The agreement is a testament to the power of diplomacy and the desire for peace.

I've discovered the wonders of tea tree oil

By Lisa S. Bernards

I'VE NEVER HAD A REACTION FOR aromatherapy and I love wild, varied and varied essential oils, experimenting on their effect on moods and minor ailments.

My favorite, second only to lavender, is tea tree oil and recently I have been using it more and more often. I'd like to share some of its wonderful qualities.

Malicious Allergies—tea tree mainly grows in Australia. New Zealand tea tree is the common. This tree oil is the essential oil distilled from the leaves of the tea tree. When using essential oils, it is very important to remember that fragrance oils are just that—the fragrance purposes. If you simply want to scent your environment, get fragrance oils which are intentionally designed that pure essential oils.

However, if you can afford the aromatherapy benefits of oil, get pure essential oil. The label and the price will tell what kind of you are getting.

Pure aromatherapy grade essential oils are most expensive, but a small bottle goes a long way since you will be using only drops at a time. This tree oil has a mild sweet smell as well as the smell of freshly cut grass and a hint of eucalyptus.

The tree oil has both anti-fungal and anti-bacterial qualities in its leaf with eucalyptus on the skin.

Here are many ways to use tea tree oil.

Disinfect a room

In a diffuser, the scent of tea tree oil will purify the air of an enclosed area. Or use a water spray bottle, fill a bottle with water and put about 25-30 drops of tea tree oil and spray it directly into the air.

Respiratory problems

It can soothe and when you have a cold, flu or any respiratory illness. Those who suffer from asthma can put a couple of drops of tea tree oil in a diffuser with water to help clear the lungs. For chest infections, get a large bowl of boiling water and add 4-6 drops of tea tree oil and cover your head with a towel and inhale the vapors.

Acne

Simply take a drop of tea tree oil and apply directly to the pimple. For acne conditions, I take a small clean cotton swab, dip it in tea tree oil and dab it on the face. Use 6 drops of the oil. Sprinkle on the face after cleansing and allow to air dry. The tea tree oil will act as natural exfoliant and will dry up the pimples, no need for harsh products will prevent further eruptions. After, results will vary and the effects will not be immediate.

Pet care

Add a couple of drops of tea tree oil to your pet's food once or twice a week with water and add a couple of drops of tea tree oil. Flies will disappear. Sprinkle on the dog's skin and brush against the growth of the hair. This method helps for the same reason, all the well-known I have raised have benefited the use of tea tree oil on skin, but some other on ingestion.

Kitchen cleaner

Use a spray bottle with several drops of tea tree oil and spray on kitchen counters after cleaning. Do not rinse off. This will disinfect the area and leave it smelling clean and fresh. It will also deter mice and hopefully mosquitoes too.

Insect bites

Just a drop of diluted tea tree oil right on the mosquito bite will help the swelling and itching. For bites, I suggest you dilute the oil in a lot of water and do not apply the oil directly on the bite. For growths, make your own natural bug repellent spray by using the same oil and water formula. Spray it on the exposed areas of skin and sleep tight.

Dandruff

Using shampoo that contains at least 5 percent of pure tea tree oil should prevent dandruff because of its anti-fungal qualities. Or simply adding a drop of tea tree oil to the shampoo before using should do the trick.

Sleep better

Spray the oil and water solution lightly on the face and on pillows and blankets in your bed. A small drop. To make your own tea tree spray, fill the bottle with 1 cup distilled water or 1/2 cup distilled water and 1/2 cup high-proof alcohol (vodka or brandy) but do not use rubbing alcohol. Place 20-30 drops of tea tree essential oil. This tea tree is combined with lavender, peppermint or eucalyptus. Get pure essential oil aromatherapy grade oils.

Vic and Pidl: Friendship on a 'different' level

By Maribel C. Cruz

THE IRRESISTIBLE ONCE-UPON-A-TIME Vic and Pidl are back. The duo's latest film, "Vic and Pidl: The Movie," is now in theaters. The film is a sequel to the 2008 film "Vic and Pidl: The Movie."

"We're not just a comedy duo," says Vic. "We're a comedy duo with a message. We want to show people that we can do more than just make people laugh."

"We did 'Vic and Pidl' in 2008, and it was a huge success. We were in the top 10 of the box office. We were in the top 10 of the box office. We were in the top 10 of the box office."
